

What are PROMISE Modules?

The PROMISE professional development project is a series of modules intended to provide support for Florida teachers as they implement the new mathematics standards. PROMISE stands for the Partnership to Rejuvenate and Optimize Mathematics and Science Education in Florida. The modules are intended to be used in workshops with teachers and principals to further understanding of the spirit of the NGSSS. These professionals work in collaborative groups to discuss new content and instructional changes. The Principal Investigator for PROMISE is Dr. Gladis Kersaint, an author for McGraw-Hill. For more information on PROMISE, go to www.promisefl.org.
